

HURDLING ADVERSITY – THE POWER OF INSPIRATION

SUMMARY

When was the last time you were inspired? What did that inspirational event cause you to do? What new heights did you achieve?

If you are like most of us, it caused you to act on your vision.

There is power in Inspiration. Inspiration leads to motivation. Motivation causes action. Action leads us to results and results either re-inspire us or allow someone else who is watching the process to latch onto the vision.

As a leader, if you want exponential results, you must inspire your team-members to see the vision and the mission. People show up and get the job done when they feel empowered and connected to a shared vision! This is when the job becomes more than a paycheck!

OUTCOMES

Hurdling Adversity: The Power of Inspiration is designed to energize your team around a common vision. Whatever the desired results you wish to see in your organization, this program will establish direct linkages between current and future actions; determine the motivations necessary to execute; and determine the most compelling source of inspiration to unleash the raw potential of your personnel to produce optimal results.

Your team-members will be able to identify, internalize, and articulate John's "Inspirational Model" which focuses on how we inspire ourselves and others to exponential positive results.

They will learn John's inspirational success acronym that helped earn him the long jump silver medal.

Finally, team-members will learn how to inspire their teams to be even more successful.

To book John for this presentation please fill out his online speaker request form by clicking here.